

Protect your brand's reputation with OSINT checks from Agenda Screening Services. These professional media checks involve a comprehensive search of publicly available information online, including social networks, forums, and public records.

By examining personal profiles, posts, and interactions of your candidates, we help identify any potential risks related to inappropriate online behaviour, ensuring you make informed hiring decisions and safeguarding your brand.

Check Included:

Open Source Intelligence (OSINT)

Conduct a comprehensive vetting process by uncovering any publicly available information that may signal potential risks, such as controversial statements, questionable behaviour or ties to extremist groups. Ensure you make informed decisions, safeguard the company's reputation, ensure workplace safety and verifying the overall integrity of the candidate.

Candidate's online presence

Identify your candidate's online presence, looking for negative behaviours such as bullying, racism, nudity and excessive bad language. It also identifies potential privacy issues, such as leaking information, and content that could potentially damage your organisation's reputation.
